

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON, D. C.

MULTINATIONAL CORPORATIONS
1968-70: Selected References

ELDEN E. BILLINGS
Economist in International Trade and Finance
Economics Division

June 15, 1970

LIBRARY
SANTA BARBARA
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

JUL 23 1970

GOVT. PUBLICATIONS DEPT.

MULTINATIONAL CORPORATIONS 1968-70: SELECTED REFERENCES

AFL-CIO. Economic Policy Committee. International trade. Report... to the AFL-CIO Executive Council. n.p., February 1970. 34 p. plus 6 tables.

Agfa-Gevaert: merger or partnership? Economist, v. 234, March 7, 1970: 52-53.

American business in Europe and the international environment 1969. Report by the second-year students of the Roy E. Crummer School of Finance and Business Administration of Rollins College. Winter Park, Florida, Winter Park Telephone Company, 1969. 180 p.

Ash, Roy L. The new anatomy of world business. Columbia journal of world business, v. 5, March-April 1970: 90-93.

"Assuming the role of a business anthropologist, Roy L. Ash, president of Litton Industries, Inc., advanced his concept of a world corporation at the 1969 Awards Luncheon of the University of Southern California School of Business Administration, Los Angeles, California."

Ball, George W. Making world corporations into world citizens. War/peace report, v. 8, October 1968: 8-10.

"A diplomat-lawyer-investment banker proposes an international companies law which would allow world corporations to mobilize capital, raw materials, labor and plant facilities so as to achieve maximum efficiency."

Barber, Arthur. Emerging new power: the world corporation. War/peace report, v. 8, October 1968: 3-7.

"Increasingly, power is shifting away from the nation state to international institutions, both public and private, argues this observer. Most remarkable is the growth of the world corporation."

Behrman, Jack N. Multinational corporations, transnational interests and national sovereignty. Columbia journal of world business, v. 4, March-April 1969: 15-21.

----- Some patterns in the rise of the multinational enterprise. [Chapel Hill] Graduate School of Business Administration, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, 1969. 180 p. (University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Graduate School of Business Administration. Research paper, 18)

Business International Corporation. Organizing the worldwide corporation. New York, Business International Corporation, 1969. 103 p.

The challenge of multinational business. Fortune, v. 80, August 15, 1969: 73-74.

Corporate citizens of the world. First National City Bank of New York. Monthly economic letter, June 1969: 69-71.

Cuniff, John. Multinational firm wields great power. Washington evening star, June 19, 1969: A19.

Davis, William. Why Europe must think big. Guardian weekly, July 10, 1969: 22.

de Vries, Henry P. Business organization: the form of the affiliate. Columbia journal of world business, v. 4, May-June 1969: 91-92.

"In setting up a multinational enterprise, management's first consideration is to determine which country's law will be applied to give life and motion to the component parts--in this case the local corporate units. ... The next point to be determined is the range of business organization forms and their applicability to global business needs. Careful analysis and planning at the outset can avoid many difficulties in later operations."

Dunlop-Pirelli, tin tacks on the road. Economist, v. 234, March 7, 1970: 67.

The Economist Intelligence Unit. The growth and spread of multinational companies. (QER Special no. 5). London, The Economist Intelligence Unit, October 1969. 55 p.

EFTA multinational corporations. EFTA reporter, no. 208, July 11, 1969: 1.

Farmer, Richard N. International management. Belmont, California, Dickenson Publishing Co., 1968. 184 p.

Fayerweather, John. International business management; a conceptual framework. New York, McGraw-Hill Book Co. [c1969]. 194 p. (McGraw-Hill series in international business)

Fouraker, Lawrence E., and John M. Stopford. Organizational structure and the multinational strategy. Administrative science quarterly, v. 13, June 1968: 47-64.

Gardner, Richard N. Hard choices for the embattled dollar. Saturday review, v. 52, November 22, 1969: 46, 51-52, 54.

Goldfinger, Nat. The AFL-CIO and foreign trade. Washington post, June 7, 1970: B6.

Heenan, David A. The corporate expatriate: assignment to ambiguity. Columbia journal of world business, v. 5, May-June 1970: 49-54.
"The expatriate businessman, no matter what his national origin, has special problems coming to terms with his multinational employer, the country in which he works and his own personality."

Jacoby, Neil H. The multinational corporation. Center magazine, v. 3, May-June 1970: 37-55.

Jager, Elizabeth R. The conglomerate goes global. American federationist, v. 77, January 1970: 19-25.

----- . Multinationalism and labor: for whose benefit? Columbia journal of world business, v. 5, January-February 1970: 56-64.

Johnson, Harry G. Thrust and response: the multilateral corporation as a development agent. Columbia journal of world business, v. 5, May-June 1970: 25-30.

Jones, Brendan. Multinational ventures backed. New York times, May 12, 1969: 69,70.

Keegan, Warren J. Multinational pricing: how far is arm's length? Columbia journal of world business, v. 4, May-June, 1969: 57-66.
Includes a discussion of Section 482 of the tax code.

Keller, Paul. The trans-national company - an instrument of economic integration. EFTA bulletin, v. 10, July-August 1969: 3-6.

Kendall, Donald. Corporate ownership: the international dimension. Columbia journal of world business, v. 4, July-August 1969: 59-65.

Kindleberger, Charles P. American business abroad. Six lectures on direct investment. New Haven and London, Yale University Press, 1969. 225 p.

See especially Lecture 6. The international corporation, pp. 179-210.

Lawrence, Richard. Action is urged on global firms. Journal of commerce, December 5, 1969: 1, 20.

----- . Government action asked. Labor attacks activities of US global firms. Journal of commerce, March 20, 1970: 3, 20.

Levinson, Charles. The giants get out of control. Guardian weekly (Manchester), December 13, 1969: 22.

McFeely, Wilbur M. The manager of the future. Columbia journal of world business, v. 4, May-June 1969: 87-90.

"This stimulating profile of the future managers of the world's multinational corporations was originally drawn for the YMCA Center for International Management Studies (CIMS) in New York."

Martyn, Howe. I spy. Columbia journal of world business, v. 4, May-June 1969: 47-56.

"The theft of knowledge is today a business..."

----- . Resistance to the multinational corporation. World affairs, v. 132, September 1969: 146-159.

----- . Social benefits of multinational manufacturing. Michigan business review, v. 21, May 1969: 26-32.

Miles, Caroline M. The international corporation. International affairs, v. 45, April 1969: 259-268.

The author discusses European reaction to American companies abroad and suggests that Britain also seek to invest in other regions.

Multi-national firm benefits backed by Canadian professor. Journal of commerce, June 1, 1970: 4, 20.

Multinational firm is global Chamber's 50th year subject. International commerce, v. 75, May 12, 1969: 8.

Multinational firms lauded. Journal of commerce, May 12, 1969: 11.

Multi-national insurance: serving a growing concept in worldwide trade. Journal of commerce, December 29, 1969: 7-14.
A series of articles.

Multinational labor: demanding a louder voice in trade and investment policy. Business abroad, v. 93, December 1968: 7-8.

"Since the early '60's leaders of major unions have become increasingly concerned by corporate migrations abroad... and they have searched endlessly for the right formula to counteract their own apparent immobility."

Nationalism sets boundaries for multinational giants. Business week, June 14, 1969: 94-96, 98.

Neufeld, E. P. A global corporation. Toronto, University of Toronto Press, 1969. 393 p.

Perlmutter, Howard V. The tortuous evolution of the multinational corporation. Columbia journal of world business, v. 4, January-February 1969: 9-18.

Polk, Judd. Internationalization: a production explosion and a political challenge. Business abroad, v. 95, February 1970: 9-13.

----- The rise of world corporations. Saturday review, v. 52, November 22, 1969: 32-34, 70.

Quinn, James Brian. Technology transfer by multinational companies. Harvard business review, v. 47, November-December 1969: 147-161.

Reddig, William M., jr. The new multinational managers. Saturday review, v. 52, November 22, 1969: 35-36, 40-41.

Roche, James M. The imperatives of world economic progress. New York, November 17, 1969. 13 p.

Text of an address before 56th National Foreign Trade Convention, also appears in National Foreign Trade Council. Proceedings of the Fifty-Sixth National Foreign Trade Convention, November 17, 18 & 19, 1969. New York, The Council, 1970, pp. 3-12.

- Rolfe, Sidney E. The international corporation: with an epilogue "Rights and Responsibilities". 1969. 51 p.
- . The international corporation in prospective. Atlantic community quarterly, v. 7, Summer 1969: 255-270.
- . The multinational corporation. Headline series no. 199, New York, Foreign Policy Association, February 1970. 63 p.
- Rolfe, Sidney E., and Walter Damm, eds. The multinational corporation in the world economy: direct investment in perspective, New York, Praeger, 1970.
- Salera, Virgil. Multinational business. Boston, Houghton Mifflin Co., 1969. 460 p.
- Seabrook, John M. International Utilities Corporation, a binational past and a multinational future. New York, Newcomen Society in North America, 1969. 28 p.
- Skala, Martin. Economist challenges European critics of U.S. Christian science monitor, May 17, 1969: 10.
- Stonehill, Arthur, and Thomas Stitzel. Financial structure and multinational corporations. California management review, v. 12, Fall 1969: 91-96.
- Telfer, George W. Big firms urged to consider goals of countries in which they invest. Journal of commerce, February 18, 1970: 1, 22.
- Thomas, Michael J. International marketing management: readings in systems and method. Edited by Michael J. Thomas. Boston, Houghton Mifflin Co. [c1969]. 496 p.
- Thompson, Dennis. The proposal for a European company. London, Chatham House, 1969. 73 p. Political and Economic Planning. European series no. 13)
- The tire industry gets a new No. 3. Business week, March 7, 1970: 18-19.
- Townsend, Ed. Political implications seen in global-firm role. Christian science monitor, April 25, 1969: 14.

Tugendhat, Christopher. International giants. Financial times (London), October 17, 1969: 18.

The growth of international companies in Europe has brought many advantages--but it also raises important problems. The author discusses the need for a policy for dealing with international giants.

----- National oil companies challenge the transnational giants. Financial times (London), December 3, 1969: 16.

----- Problem of the big corporations. "Transnationals" is the word coined for the global commercial interests which can often speak on equal terms with national governments. Financial times (London), June 26, 1968: 16.

Turner, Louis. Politics and the multi-national company. London, Fabian Society, 1969. Fabian Research series 279.

Vagts, Detlev F. The multinational enterprise: a new challenge for transnational law. Harvard law review, v. 83, February 1970: 739-792.

Vaupel, James W., and Joan P. Curhan. The making of multinational enterprise. A sourcebook of tables based on a study of 187 major U.S. manufacturing corporations. Boston, Division of Research, Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University, 1969. 511 p.
Statistics only.

Vernon, Raymond. What strategy for the third world? Saturday review, v. 52, November 22, 1969: 42-46.

von Lazar, Arpad. Multi-national enterprises and Latin American integration: a sociopolitical view. Journal of inter-American studies, v. 11, January 1969: 111-143.

Waterman, Merwin H. Financial management in multinational corporations. Michigan business review, v. 20, January 1968: 10-15, March 1968: 26-32.

Whitcomb, Philip W. French business expertise: multinational firms disprove provincialism charge. Christian science monitor, April 25, 1970: 14.

Who calls the world's financial tune? Charles Levinson, secretary-general of the International Federation of Chemical and General Workers' Unions in Geneva, argues in an interview with Hella Pick that existing concepts of managing trade and payments balances are obsolete because of the activities of massive multinational corporations. He calls for a fundamental rethinking of trade policies by Governments. Guardian weekly (Manchester), May 29, 1969: 22.

"Witch-hunt" deplored: UK bank defends role of multinational firms. Journal of commerce, May 28, 1970: 9.