PREFACE

This document, Bibliography, is the second in a series of reports prepared by Stone & Webster Management Consultants, Inc., under contract to the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE contract AC01-78RG06428). The purpose of this contract was to identify, describe, and apply techniques for analyzing the impacts of certain electric utility concepts. This report was compiled to provide documentation for use by state public utility commissions and major nonregulated utilities in evaluating the applicability of a wide range of electric utility rate design and regulatory concepts in light of certain regulatory objectives.

This report is divided into three parts: Part I, Utility Regulatory Objectives; Part II, Rate Design Concepts; and Part III, Regulatory Concepts. Within each part the references are arranged alphabetically. To further facilitate the identification of each entry's subject matter, acronyms are listed after each reference, and each reference is assigned a number. Acronyms pertain to generally related references (URO, RDP, and REG), three regulatory objectives, six rate design concepts, and six regulatory concepts as shown in the following table. A subject index by reference number is located at the end of each part.

A major source of additional and more current information which includes references to recent state commission orders and supporting documentation may be found in Volume III, Regulatory Laws and Policies Affecting Implementation of PURPA Standards for Electric Utilities (Schiff Hardin & Waite, Washington, D.C., December 20, 1979). The report provides a review of the substantive and procedural laws of each regulatory jurisdiction that may affect implementation of the PURPA standards, and summarizes the current state of consideration and implementation of policies and rate designs similar or identical to the PURPA standards by state regulatory agencies and non-regulated utilities. It contains an overview of relevant regulatory law and policy in each state or other ratemaking jurisdiction. A narrative summary discusses (1) general constitutional and statutory provisions affecting utility rates and conditions of service, (2) specific laws or decisions affecting policy or rate design issues covered by PURPA standards, and (3) statutes and decisions governing administrative procedures, including judicial review. Charts show what action, if any, has been taken in each jurisdiction on the policy and rate design issues addressed by PURPA. Citations to relevant authorities are presented for each standard. State statutes or decisions that specifically define a state standard similar or identical to a PURPA standard, or that refer to one of the three PURPA objectives, are separately noted.
