Robust infrastructure for managing digital content

A platform for institutions to deliver content to users around the world

Built using a simple data model

Digital object has descriptive metadata

(locally qualified Dublin Core)

One or more manifestations

(think format, series of images, pdf, ppt)

Each manifestation has one or more file sets

(think page of a book)

Each file set has one or more files

(master, ocr, transcription, translation, thumbnail)

Objects modeled in python and serialized as METS records on the filesystem

Descriptive metadata is modeled as python object and serialized as XML

All digital items are stored as files on disk

Solr is used to index items

Two Solr indexes

one for items and one for pages

Over 70,000 acres now burned

Currently, the Texas Forest Service is assisting local crews put out a handful of fires: two of the more noticeable are in Nolan County near Maryneal and Taylor County near Trent.

A fire blazing in Nolan County torched more than 70,500 acres as of Wednesday evening and is 65 percent contained. There are voluntary evacuations around the community of Maryneal. Eight homes, eight outbuildings and three vehicles were destroyed. A power substation received heavy damage, leaving many without power. Heavy air tankers and single-engine air tankers dropped on this fire. This fire is burning four miles south of Maryneal.

Crews are working not only to battle the blaze, but to restore power to residents in the communities of Maryneal and Nolan.

Residents in the two communities are without water and electricity after the fire knocked out power Monday.

"Our wells are pumped by electricity so we don't have water at our homes," said Maryneal resident Carol Higdon.

Many are taking shelter at the Maryneal Community Center, which is also serving as a makeshift command center for the Texas Forest Service.

TFS crews were initially unable to help fight the flames, as their resources are stretched thin all over the state.

SISD terminates 14 due to budget cuts

BY BELINDA SERRANO
Staff Writer

The Sweetwater Independent School District (SISD) Board of Trustees met for its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, June 20, 2011 at the Administration Building.

On the consent agenda, the board approved the minutes from the meeting held on May 16, the financial statements and bills from the previous month and the investment statement. Approval was also given to accept one of the three delinquent tax lot bids received by the board; the other two were denied as they did not meet the minimum requirement.

The PEPPSA Director contract was also approved by the board, as well as the proposed local policy changes for EHBB, which deals with the district's gifted and talented program.

The updates were prompted by some word changes in regards to testing and acceptance of students into Sweetwater ISD's gifted and talented program. The most notable change, presented by SISD Assistant Superintendent Kathy Smartt, was in regard to placement of transfer students.

Now, a student who was in a gifted and talented

What's Inside this Collection.

The Texas Digital Newspaper Program coordinates with multiple partners, including public libraries, publishers, historical and genealogical societies, and universities, to represent and preserve Texas history through digitized newspapers. This collection begins with pages from 1829 and continues through the present.

A large portion of the newspaper content in this collection comes from the generous support of the National Endowment for the Humanities' National Digital Newspaper Program, and the rest of the content is digitized through the active support of individual groups interested in preserving and providing access to community newspapers from across Texas. Because a newspaper depicts its community's identity over time, the Texas Digital Newspaper Program adheres to strict standards to preserve and make available all of these newspapers in perpetuity.

APIs for Texas Digital Newspaper Program

Introduction

The The Portal to Texas History provides public access to number of application programming interfaces (APIs) to the collections within the system. Below are examples of APIs avaliable for Texas Digital Newspaper Program that can be used openly by those interested in programatically accessing data from this system. You do not need to apply for a special key to use these APIs.

For additional information about these APIs or if you have general questions about machine interaction with the The Portal to Texas History please contact Mark Phillips.

Note that all example URLs below use the same protocol and server name, http://texashistory.unt.edu/explore/collections/TDNP/. We only show the URL paths and parameters below to save space.

The API

OAI-PMH

The Open Archives Initiative's Protocol for Metadata Harvesting (OAI-PMH) allows programatic access to this collection's metadata. Two metadata formats are currently supported, the standard oai_dc and the UNT Libraries native metadata format untl.

Below are example URLs which demonstrate some of the standard views of this OAI-PMH repository:

- oai/
  base URL for OAI-PMH repository
- oai/?verb=Identify Display information about this repository
- oai/?verb=ListMetadataFormats
  List avaliable metadata formats
- oai/?verb=ListSets
  List avaliabe sets
- oai/?verb=ListRecords&metadataPrefix=oai_dc
  Display records in the oai_dc metadata format
- oai/?verb=ListRecords&metadataPrefix=untl
  Display records in the untl metadata format

Controlled Vocabularies: Home

Name	Label	Definition
agent-qualifiers	Creator/Contributor Role	Creator/Contributor role indicates the relationship of that person or corporate body to the resource being described. N.B. Except where specified in the "Notes", Creator/Contributor roles and definitions for the roles come from the Library of Congress's MARC Code Lists for Relators, Sources, Description Conventions: http://www.loc.gov/marc/relators/relahome.html agent-type	Creator Type	Agent or creator type categorizes whether the creator name belongs to an individual, an organization, an event, or a software.
citationQualifiers	Citation Qualifiers	Qualifiers for the UNTL Citation metadata field.
collections	Collection	The term collection means that the resource is described as a group; its parts may also be separately described and navigated. Collection name refers to a larger group of resources with a unique collective title to which the resource being described belongs. We added a filed "system" for each collection term with a value of either "pth" for the Portal to Texas History, or "dc" for UNT Digital Collections. The highlights of the PTH Collections can be viewed at: http://texashistory.unt.edu/browse/?browseby=collection. Similarly, the highlights of the UNT Digital Collections can be viewed at: http://www.library.unt.edu/libraries-and-collections/digital-collections .
coverage-eras	Coverage Time Period	Coverage time periods refer to time periods that are covered and/or discussed in the intellectual content of the resource, not the creation (publication) date.
coverage-qualifiers	Coverage Type	Coverage is the extent or scope of the content of the resource. It will typically include spatial location (a place name or geographic coordinates) and a temporal period (a period label, date, or date range).
date-qualifiers	Date	Dates associated with events in the life cycle of the resource.
degree-information	Degree Information	Degree information provides detail information associated with the work as it appears within the work.
degree-levels	Degree Level	Degree level refers to level of education associated with the document.
description-qualifiers	Description	Both content and physical descriptions of the resource.
eventOutcomes	Event Outcomes
formats	Format	Format is the structural type of the digital manifestation.
identifier-qualifiers	Identifier Type	Identifier type refers to a formal identifier for a resource that identifies it uniquely and persistently.
institutions	Institution	Institution is a consistent reference to the administrative unit that owns the digital resource for which metadata was created (currently for the Portal to Texas History).
languages	Language	Language refers to the language of the intellectual content of the resource. This will be the language in which a text is written or the spoken language of an audio or video. Visual images normally do not have a language unless there is significant text in a caption or in the image itself.
linkingAgentRoles	Linking Agent Roles	Agent roles used in the creation of Premis events.
meta-qualifiers	Qualifiers for UNTL meta element	Qualifier types for the meta element in the UNTL metadata format.
note-qualifiers	Note Types	Qualifiers used by UNTL metadata format for the note element.
preservationEvents	Preservation Events	Preservation events are actions performed on digital objects within a preservation repository. Mostly lifted from http://id.loc.gov/vocabulary/preservationEvents.html Maintained as a separate list for easier migration forward.
publication-types	Degree	This vocabulary refers to a type of ETD produced by students in the degree-seeking process.
