WOW! Just two months ago I was installed as President–Elect for the year and on April 14th I was installed as President of the Chapter. President Tom Small had recently been hired on at Wal-Mart as an Assistant Store Manager but the demands of his new job became over-whelming. He was a sterling leader within our Chapter over the last year as President-Elect and as President in January. We will miss his leadership and enthusiasm for SAR. I hope to serve as your new President with equal determination and commitment to serve the members of this Chapter.

The Texas Society Annual Conference was held in Richardson, TX on April 1-3, 2016. Our attendees included President Tom Small and Compatriots Stephen and Frank Rohrbough and James Taylor. Chapter and Individual Awards are noted in the section below.

We attended two School History Fairs in early April to include Frank Tejeda Middle School (Northside Independent School District) and Losoya Intermediate School (Southside Independent School District). See page 5 for details. Under the able leadership of Compatriot Paul Reynolds, our members are in the process of awarding SAR medals to outstanding Junior and Senior ROTC students in local area high schools and universities. We are in the process of selecting a winner of the Edward C. Snyder Jr Memorial Scholarship Award.

Our Chapter was asked to provide the Color Guard for the 97th annual Patriotic and Historical Ball (aka Pioneer Ball) at the Villita Hall as one of the “Kick Off” Events for Fiesta. For more details, see page 3.

As I am a relatively new chapter member, due my transfer from the Ohio Society; I am looking forward to meeting more of the San Antonio Chapter members who have not had the opportunity to attend a meeting since I arrived.

Respectfully, Dave Brooks

Our Guest Speaker for our Chapter Meeting on March 17th was Priscilla Hancock, wife of our Immediate Former Chapter President Bob Hancock. She proved a sterling review of what time and life was like for Dolley Madison, First Lady of President James Madison.

Born into a large Quaker family that went by strict rules and the highest morals, Dolley lost her first husband and married into the well-known Virginia aristocracy. Even though James Madison was a Congressman, Dolley was expelled from her faith as James was an Anglican. Never seeing a stranger and always kind and helpful to all, she was sought after in the Washington society. Madison, a brilliant writer, who was called the father of the Constitution and author of the Bill of Rights, disclaimed such talk saying there were many minds that created the work.

During their years in the White House, Dolley was known for the excellent meals and friendly atmosphere she provided. During the War of 1812 when President Madison was gone, it appeared that the British were nearing the White House and Dolley was urged to leave, but declined because she thought her husband would return and until then she would guard the country’s most famous abode. Finally after all the Patriot soldiers and staff left the White House, Dolley and one servant were able to load up many important personal papers in a carriage. She had the famous picture of George Washington, painted by Gilbert Stuart (which was nailed to the wall) cut out of its frame, and left only minutes before the British arrived to sack and burn the White House.

Is it any wonder that Dolley Madison is an example of undying patriotism to us all even this day!

CHAPTER CELEBRATES 86TH BIRTHDAY

Compatriot Joe Ware conducted extensive research on the founding of our Chapter and provided a very interesting presentation at our April Chapter Meeting. He said “We have celebrated the April 1930 founding of our chapter for many years but this year we wanted to focus on and honor our founding President, Alexander B Spencer and his five co-founders.”

He reported: “The stage was set: 1930 was the first year of the Great Depression, thought by historians and economists to be the most difficult peacetime period in our history. The stock market had crashed in October 1929 followed by multiple bank failures; consumer confidence plummeted and businesses failed by the hundreds; GNP was cut in half; unemployment doubled and doubled again. Some were preaching that our form of government and the free enterprise system had failed; Socialism and Communism were touted as the wave of the future. This was the environment in which our chapter was formed.” Our Founding Leaders were:

- Alexander Spencer, had a wholesale lumber business and constructed homes in Terrill Hills, born in Virginia of a prominent family; the Spencer’s who are related to most of the European royalty and include Winston Spencer Churchill and Princess Diana nee Spencer
- Albert McDavid, who later was TXSAR President and NSSAR Historian General
- Jack Beretta, a Graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology - who mapped the acequias (a system to distribute the water using seven gravity-flow irrigation ditches and five dams and an aqueduct constructed as a network to send water from the San Antonio River over fifteen miles to the missions.)
- Samuel Scott, who's ancestor was a hero at the Battle of Guilford Courthouse
- F. L. Hillyer, a successful local businessman, and
- Herbert Spencer, the brother of Alexander Spencer, also a successful local businessmen.

In summary, Ware stated: “All of them were successful in their careers and worked hard to defend our U. S. Constitution and the way of life that had been built in a growing America. They set an example for us to follow.”
On Saturday, March 28th, while many of our Chapter Leaders were attending the Annual Texas Society SAR Meeting in Houston, several of our members participated in the Frank Tejeda Middle School History Faire. Compatriot Jay Lewallen took the lead role to provide selected demonstrations of the American Revolution events, period uniforms and weapons, camp life during the Revolution. (Photo at Right) Compatriot Jay Lewallen (standing at left) wearing the coonskin hat is conversing with Compatriot Bob Hancock (seated), Immediate Past President, San Antonio Chapter. Compatriot Fred Soupiset is seated demonstrating the making of a powder horn while Compatriot Bud Davenport looks on.

On April 9th, four members of the Chapter assembled at the Losoya Intermediate School (Southside ISD) to participate in their fledging History Fair. This is the second time we attended the event and found the staff and student very welcoming. President Dave Brooks (sitting in white shirt) presented US Flag Pins to all students and their parents encouraging each to hear presentations on the American Revolution, the weapons and uniforms worn during the War and historical experience's of our Patriot Ancestors. Leading these discussions were Compatriot Bob Hancock in his early war uniform. Not shown were Compatriots Frank Rohrbough in his Continental Line (First Virginia Regimental Uniform) and Stephen Rohrbough in his First VA Militia uniform similar to Bob Hancock’s uniform.
