We are writing in regards to the realignment and base closure process in Tucson, Arizona, involving Davis-Monthan Air Force Base. The DM Air Base is a key Air Force training installation located on the southeast edge of Tucson with urban development on 3 sides and relatively unimproved land to the southeast. We are concerned about the ever-worsening encroachment on Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, which seriously compromises the base's flexibility for future missions. Current development planning is projected to eventually fill the area to the southeast of Davis Monthan with 600,000 new residents, putting the base in the center of a major city.

After the second crash of an Air Force jet into midtown Tucson in 1978, the City and the Air Force worked together to plan and implement strategies to assure a viable coexistence of Davis Monthan and Tucson. Among these strategies were: taking off and landing toward the southeast instead of toward a densely populated urban area, and moving or extending the DM runway further to the southeast, so that jets would be flying over relatively open land. Unfortunately, the latter proposal did not materialize, and the jets have resumed flying over metropolitan Tucson on a daily basis.

Recently, the Tucson area has also experienced the effects of a Joint Land Use Study (JLUS) process, sponsored by the Arizona Department of Commerce and funded by the Department of Defense, in which a key group of stakeholders, the residents of Tucson, did not participate. The resulting Airport Environs Zone (AEZ) Amendment, approved in October of 2004 by the mayor and City Council, imposed a noise zoning overlay of "not compatible with residential use" on key areas of the existing mid-town urban residential area of Tucson. The purpose of the zone was to prevent encroachment in areas that have not yet been developed.

Instead of preventing development in the vacant area southeast of the base, the city council created a JLUS-based zone to the northwest of DM, impacting densely populated neighborhoods, some established over 70 years ago. In addition, there are community schools, hospitals and a thriving university of approximately 50,000 staff and students, all of which are subjected to noise levels above 70 db on a daily basis.

Since it is likely that in the future the Air Force will need to train pilots on more powerful jets whose noise contours far exceed those of the A-10 and a single F-16, the noise contour created does not reflect the noise conditions that are likely to prevail in Tucson as future operations at DM increase.

As United States citizens and residents of Tucson we are keenly interested in safeguarding the mutual long-term viability of both Davis-Monthan Air Force Base and the city of Tucson. We expect our city government to ensure the feasibility of base operations as well as maintaining the desirable quality of life that Tucson has always offered. However, to date, they have failed to do so.

We are appealing to BRAC to save our base by sending a stern message to the City Council, planners, and Governor Napolitano, to preserve the south corridor as open space to prevent encroachment, allow for runway expansion, and reduce noise impacts on midtown Tucson. We advocate moving or expanding the runway to the southeast to protect the base and keep DM the important military asset that it is and which might also address existing proximity issues with Tucson International Airport.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
WASHINGTON 20330

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

16 NOV 1978

Ms. Jennifer Hesketh Thompson
4145 E. Sixth Street
Tucson, Arizona 85711

Dear Ms. Thompson:

On behalf of President Carter, I am replying to your October 28 letter concerning Davis-Monthan Air Force Base.

As I am sure you realize, the Air Force is extremely concerned about the safety of citizens near all Air Force bases. We are continually trying, through operational analyses and cooperative land-use planning, to reduce the risk to the absolute minimum. A number of actions are currently being implemented or are being considered at Davis-Monthan in an effort to reduce the potential for a similar accident in the future:

- The conversion from the A-7 to the A-10 is already underway and will be completed by mid-1979.

- Work with the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) will continue to insure that air traffic in the Tucson Control Zone minimizes activity over the urban areas.

- Use of other airfields in the local area for practice instrument approaches will increase.

- Working with Tucson International Airport (TIA) and the FAA, we are evaluating use of runway 12 for departures and runway 30 for arrivals whenever possible.

- We are evaluating a 50% reduction of practice instrument approaches to runway 12 by Davis-Monthan assigned aircraft.

- We are looking into doing more training at satellite fields which would not necessitate landings and takeoffs.

- We will continue to work with local authorities to encourage compatible land use planning.

Several other possible solutions are being explored.

- Change the runway headings. Essentially, there are two parallel runways in the control zone -- one at Davis-Monthan and another at Tucson International Airport. Reorientation may be feasible; however, it is likely to result in an impact on other sections of the city.

- Reduce the Air National Guard activity at Davis-Monthan. We will explore the possibility of alternative sites and limiting the use of Davis-Monthan to Air National Guard aircraft that are similar to those stationed at Davis-Monthan and would be compatible with Davis-Monthan operations.

- Construct a parallel runway. A parallel runway would expedite aircraft through the control zone and reduce the amount of time aircraft are over the city.

Alternatives such as constructing a parallel runway must be authorized and funded by Congress as specific projects in the Military Construction Program. A project to construct a parallel runway has been submitted by Tactical Air Command for an out-year program. This project, as well as other construction needs at all bases, is being continuously reviewed. The actual Air Force request submitted to Congress for any specific year program will be based on those projects whose urgency has been established in competition with other Air Force facility needs.

Please be assured that we are concerned about this problem and are working to minimize it within our capabilities. The actions addressed above are being evaluated and/or implemented by Davis-Monthan officials. We sincerely appreciate your interest and are hopeful that you will continue to work with local civilian and Air Force officials on this matter.

Sincerely,

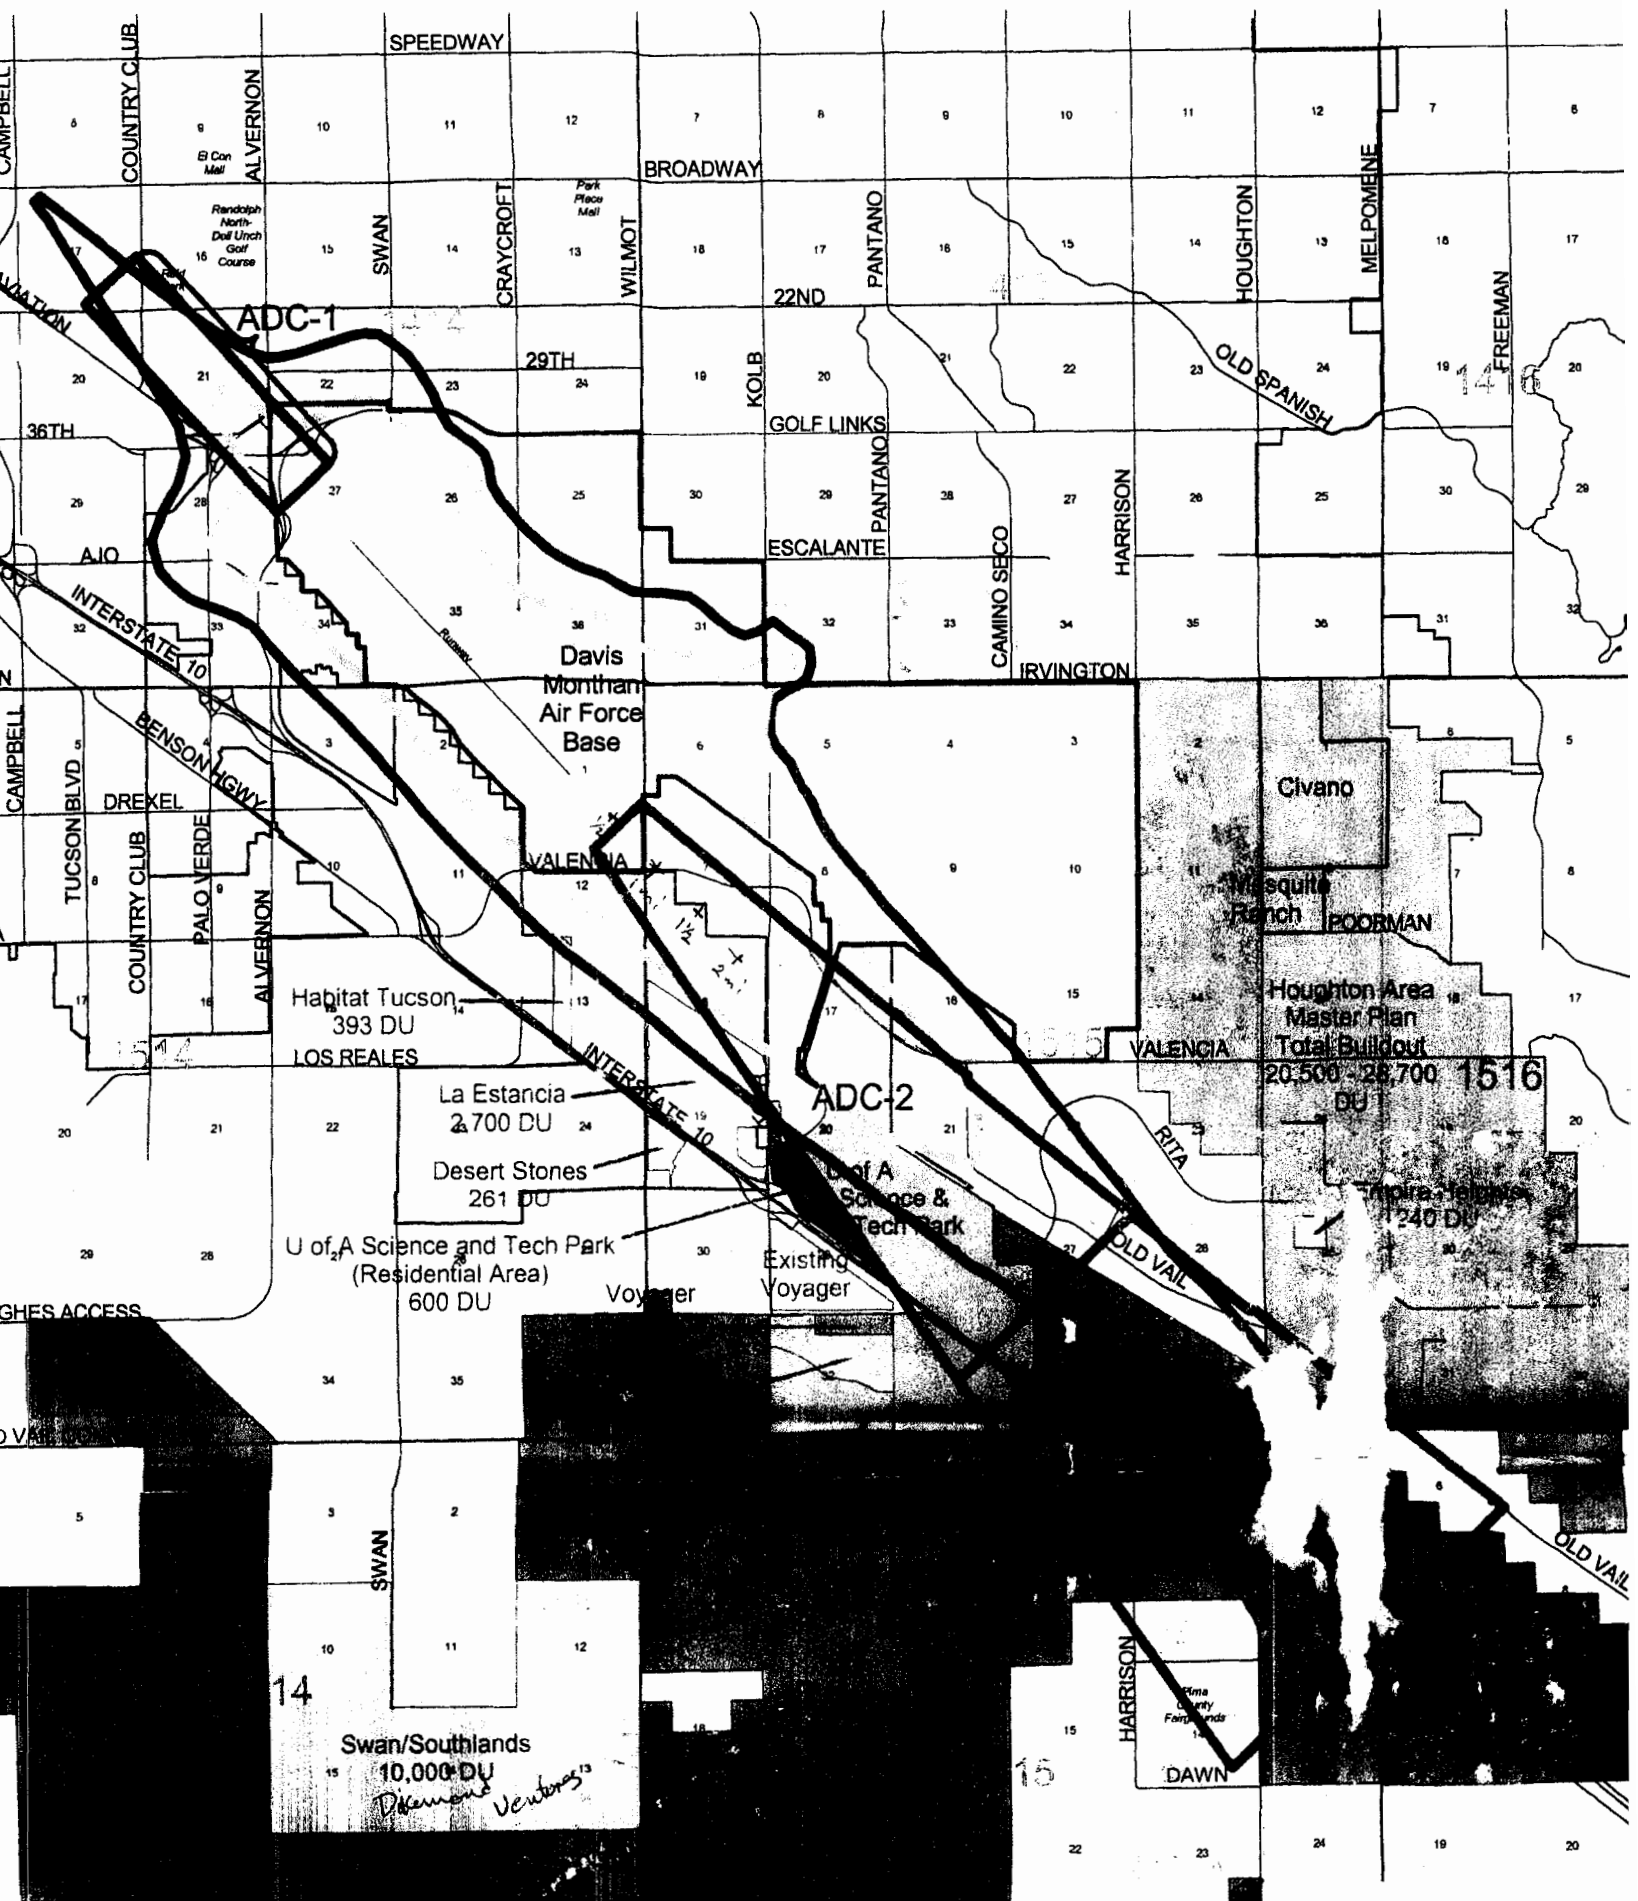

L. E. SEMINARE, JR.
Colonel USAF

City OK'ing rapid building near base

The Citizen's March 19 article ("Expansion more likely than closure at D-M") overlooks a key fact. The mayor and City Council are moving as quickly as possible to approve housing that will surround the southern half of Davis-Monthan.

The mayor says, "The only thing we can do is address noise mitigation." Yet the city quickly is approving large developments south and east of the base: the Houghton Area Master Plan (20,000 to 28,000 homes), La Estancia (2,700) and the UA Science and Tech Park (600). Plans for transportation routes already are under way for Southlands (more than 100,000 homes).

The mayor and council use arbitrary noise and accident contours in the Joint-Land Use plan as a boundary beyond which to encourage encroachment. Are they sacrificing the future of D-M and our quality of life for short-term developer profits?
