<MSG>In view of the expense required to implement the current BRAC recommendations, has there ever been an audit of previous BRAC actions to ascertain the accuracy of projected cost savings? If so, how do I obtain a copy of those audit reports? I know the Government audits the results of OMB Circular A-76 studies, and so it seems prudent to me that the Government do the same with BRAC actions to give the taxpayer assurance in the integrity of the BRAC methodology for projecting cost savings. Also, why isn't the BRAC process structured so that previous BRAC savings have been set-aside to pay for the current BRAC process? Or is it?</MSG>
