1.0 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The attached cassette tape contains the Hanford specific files (Table 1) that make up the Hanford Site Technical Baseline Database. The cassette tape also includes the delta files (Table 2) that delineate the differences between this revision and revision 0 of the Hanford Site Technical Baseline Database. This information is being managed and maintained on the Hanford RDD-100 System, which uses the capabilities of RDD-100, a systems engineering software system of Ascent Logic Corporation (ALC). This revision of the Hanford Site Technical Baseline Database uses RDD-100 version 3.0.2.2 (see Table 3). Directories reflect those controlled by the Hanford RDD-100 System Administrator. Table 4 provides information regarding the platform.

2.0 RESPONSIBILITIES
