University Near-Death Studies Fund Established

To the Editor:

We are pleased to announce the establishment of the University of Connecticut Foundation Near-Death Studies Fund, a nonprofit fund set up specifically to support near-death research. We believe this to be the first such fund dedicated to near-death studies, and as such marks a turning point in institutional recognition and support of this growing field of research.

Individuals or organizations interested in contributing to the Near-Death Studies Fund may obtain further information by writing to me at the address below.
